If you do the social media thing, could you tell us why? Work? Pleasure?

If you don't, also, could you tell us why? I don't because it would take too much of my time.

I do Facebook, sometimes. I started on Facebook way back when you had to have an .EDU account to get on. It was fun, and a great way to keep track of your "peeps." Now it's way too busy. It's like TV. I'm thinking about giving it up.

You're right, it's too busy. Talking to all of your friends is so easy because they're all right there that a few hours could pass and it would only seem like a few minutes.
