Do you find that you will listen to a radio station for a year or two and then suddenly they have changed what type of music they are playing. This has happened to me twice in the last two years. I love listening to the radio on my commute in the morning, which takes about an hour and a bit to get in. I like alternative and rock music and have had two stations change to oldies or top 40 in the last two years. It's frustrating!

I find it frustrating too, but what are you going to do? The local rock station recently started adding classic rock into the playlists, which many people complained about, but I guess there was a need. The old classic rock stations changed to talk radio a couple years ago.

I hate when that happens. I guess it's not so bad when they change to a station I like but it seems like they always change it to something I don't care for as much.
