Has anyone seen the movie Gravity? My son went to see it and said it was good. It stars Sandra Bullock and George Clooney, stranded in space.

I saw it and was not that impressed. The special effects were cool but the story line and some of the science was rather weak. If you decide to see it, definitely see it in the theater.

So it's not worth seeing on dvd? Maybe I'll wait for it to come to Netflix and save myself some money. That's too bad, I like Sandra Bullock and George Clooney.

I agree with audio. It's all right to watch in the theater so you get the full enjoyment of special effects, but otherwise don't bother seeing it.
