Does anyone have a recommendation for reasonably priced computer speakers? I would really like to spend less than $200. Our last set was great, but after two or three moves, two kids, and a few too many parties they have had enough. Now you don't hear anything but bass.

I don't have personal experience with these, but I've read decent reviews of Altec Lansing Expressionist Ultra MX6021s. I think the pair is priced at just under $200.
