The Fourth Wise Man is a TV movie from 1985 starring Martin Sheen and Alan Arkin. The story is about a fourth wise man who was supposed to leave with the caravan that was following the star in search of the Messiah. Life's events cause him to miss the caravan. He continues his journey on his own but finds himself a step behind Jesus throughout his entire life, not catching up with him until the trial of Jesus in Jerusalem. It is the perfect Christmas/Easter movie.

I've never even heard of it. It sounds like it could be pretty interesting though, so I'll look it up. Do they air it on network TV or is it something you have to search out for yourself?
