Subject: His very own Church Pipe Organ!
Posted by RustyC on Sat, 25 Jan 2014 00:05:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

A weird and wonderful friend of mine has recently acquired his own church pipe organ. A local church was getting a new, fancy, digital organ and having the old one taken out. He asked if he could have it and they let him! He's put the whole thing (all 40 or 50 pipes) together in his barn-like garage and is learning to play.

I think it's sad the church let it go, but I'm glad he's giving it a new life.

Subject: Re: His very own Church Pipe Organ!
Posted by LuckyLucy on Sun, 26 Jan 2014 01:29:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You do have some unique friends, there, Rusty. Aren't some of those pipes huge? It must have been quite a move and build. Has he learned to play?