My new insurance kicked in this month, so I decided to see the eye doctor yesterday. An eye exam, new lenses, and $125 frames are only going to cost me $35 with this insurance. As a plus, I can also get $200 worth of contacts for free. I was very surprised!

Wow! I need that insurance. I just spent $80 just for an eye exam and it will cost me another $200-$300 for glasses and contacts. Is it through your employer?

Very nice coverage. I have really good health insurance, but disappointingly it has not got any vision coverage, and the dental is laughable even though I paid for the highest dental level!
