Sound echoes in our apartment. What can we do to insulate and stop the echo? I thought when we filled the place with all of our "stuff" that the echo effect would stop, but it hasn't. Help!

Do you have anything hanging on your walls or carpets on your floor? You need to add something to absorb the sounds, otherwise if your walls, ceiling and floors are bare the sound just bounces off them causing the echo. Try hanging pictures you like around the room and see if that helps.
