It just struck me that we should be celebrating Pi Day virtually, esp. considering it's importantance in this subject area. So... celebrate however you see fit. It's Friday no less, so a good day to crank up the tunes!

Pi day was indeed fun. Listening to music, eating some of the local bakery's fare (apple pie w/ice cream). Doesn't get much better than that.

Thanks for thinking about us all on Friday! I was really busy, and in fact have been staying too busy these days. Packed kits all weekend, barely got online at all. But Friday I was thinking about 3.14, and glad to see you guys were too!

(Next year it will be 3.14.15...   )
