I love listening to the radio online. You can listen to stations anywhere and they often label what you are hearing so you learn the artists and the song titles. Do you listen to online radio?

I do every once in a while. It is a great way to discover new music. I like how you can listen to stations from all over the world.

I haven't listened to online radio stations in a long time. I do like it when they let you know what song they are playing because there have been so many times in my car that I've heard a great song and I have no idea who it is by.

The same happens to me, but by the time I realize I like the song, I pay attention to the verse. If any words are repeated, I Google it because that could be the title. Most of time it works.

I would like to get online radio, but I just haven't had the time to look into it or set it up.

I have listened to radio online a few times before but it had never occurred to me that they label the songs. I am not really good with song titles and I think this will be a good way of learning them.

I have never been the type to be keen on who's singing what song so I am not sure that will be of much help. The reason I will probably want to listen to online radio is because there is a greater variety to choose from.
