I used to think that I didn't really like the Red Hot Chili Peppers because I only ever heard the same two or three songs played on the radio all the time and didn't care much for them. I've been listening to Pandora all week, though, and I've heard a lot of their songs this week that I'd never heard before. They're starting to grow on me and now I'm even thinking I might buy a few songs through iTunes soon. Does anyone else here like them?
