I am attempting to set up an old AR turntable model XA Universal model in the correct manner but I do not have a needle force gauge and the arm length adjustment guide. Where can I get these or are there substitutions?Geoff

Dear Geoff, I have seen one of these come up on eBay. I will be more than happy to pass on some dimensions for you because it may be possible to make one. I have had a lot of help from J.R. setting up my old XB1. I am sure he might be able to help source one for you. I would be interested in some pictures of an XA to add to my AR pageBest WishesHoward (Queensland)

Try Tim At Tim@turntablebasics.com he will have a gauge for a couple bucks that is accurate and universal for setting alignment and for stylus tracking force use the shure gauge again about ten dollars.
