I have had my laptop for over 3 years now. Lately, I have been highly considering a tablet PC to use. I really like the look & feel of the Surface Pro 3 tablet. Does anyone have any suggestions for me?

Just wanted to give an update on this thread. I decided to purchase a Microsoft Surface Tablet RT. I got it for a real cheap price off of eBay. It came with a keyboard, and case. So far, I really like it and I'm using it right now!

I would have recommended an iPad or Samsung Galaxy tablet; I like both of those. I've heard good things about Surface tablets, too, but they are so expensive! From what I've seen, they cost just as much as a full out laptop.

I have an iPad that I use, but I'm a little jealous of the Surface Pro after seeing a friend use his. He can do a lot more with his tablet than I can with mine. I think you made a very smart purchase.
