I saw recently that a volcano in Nicaragua erupted for the first time in more than 100 years; I think it's called Telica? It was actually earlier in the month but I don't keep up with the news much these days, ha.

Anyone know if there is video footage?

I had no idea this happened at the end of last year! I quit paying for cable TV years ago and now I have to actively search for news events to keep up with what's going on.
