Subject: Best headphones for movies

I have a toddler with an early bedtime, and after her bedtime is the only time I can really sit down and watch a movie. However, our bedrooms are situated right next to each other so I have to keep the volume down low enough that it won't wake her up. Then what usually happens is I can't hear what's being said... so I'm thinking the solution here is high quality headphones. What would you guys suggest?
