.....Is why I take my audio system seriously:

The more matured and layered a musician and his songs are, the better the system needs to be to pick up on the nuances.

Enjoy

Good stuff Azuri, thanks for sharing that. You can hear Dylan's influence heavily on that track.

Pink Floyd though is still the best for making sure you get the best audio system. No one did it like the Floyd.

They still don't.

Well that was a nice little treat Azuri, thank you. Over the ear headphones are really good for this. Master and Dynamic has quality stuff. You can hear everything that was put into the track with clarity.

I agree, anything that will cancel out the sounds around you are the best things to use for listening to music. Nothing is better than being able to deeply listen to your favorite music.

That is a pretty rich sound in that video. Thank you for sharing that. Appreciating music is a lot easier when you know the people making it.....appreciated the opportunity to make it. People like that tend to do a very good job.
