What happened? Was it an accidental hit and run or was it murder? This is why I don't do any type of roadside work to my car; I've had AAA for years so I just call them and wait in the car until they get there.

That's always sad to hear. This happens more than people may realize though. A quick Google search of this topic will give you hundreds of stories like this.

This is sad. Regardless of whether it was an accident or purposeful murder, I hope the person(s) responsible are caught. The students killed deserve justice; the families of the students killed deserve some type of retribution, and whoever did this needs to be off the streets.
