Many political insiders say that Hillary needs to be very concerned about the way she set up her own server to conduct government business. How many here believe she is going to get indicted because of this crime?

I would like to believe she is going to get indicted.

The sad truth is that she probably will not. How many crimes have the Clintons committed since they were revealed to the public eyes?

They have never been indicted for those crimes. They aren't indicting Hillary's technician, that helped set up the server. No, she will be let off. The Clintons get away again.
