I just purchased a 4k Sharp TV and spotted these 4k HDMI cables. I'm wondering if these are the cables that I should be getting? Has anyone ever heard of them? Are they worth spending the money on?

I also recently bought a Samsung 4K TV but I continue to use my previous HDMI cable that is not 4K! I think the concept of the 4K HDMI cables is that of manufacturers trying to jump on the wave of the transition to 4K TVs. You may want to check out this link for more information on the HDMI cables.
