Once in a while, I love going to the cinemas to watch a movie. It is normally a different experience to watching online. Has anyone of you watched Warcraft? Someone recommended and rated it highly. What other movies are being screened?

I haven't had a chance to go see this movie yet, but it looks really good. The last time I went to the cinema to watch a movie it was for The Conjuring 2. I try not to go to the theater often because it ends up costing a lot of money.

I have also not watched this but it has good ratings on the imdb website. The only movie I have watched recently is Central Intelligence, starring Dwayne Johnson and Kevin Hart. It's a really interesting one and I would watch it again, given a chance.

I heard someone mention Conjuring 2 as well. Is it based on a true story? I am not sure if it is still screening but it looks like a good movie.
