I just went to a concert the other night and I think it was one of the best concerts I've been to in a long time. It was called 'Summerland Tour' and all of the bands were really getting the crowd fired up. The one band took video of us all to use as part of their video for their new song that they are releasing later this year. What's the coolest thing that happened to you when you went to a concert?

Concerts are a good way to experience a great music performance. I always attend them when I get time. There is this time we went for a concert and one popular artiste just reached out to me with his mic. I think he noticed me singing to every line of the song. He invited me on stage and we did a very random duet. That was the coolest thing ever.
