I love watches and I think this is my biggest collection so far (there are about 50 in my closet). I know this may sound crazy but it only happens that we only keep purchasing what we love and never realize when we are going overboard.

I cannot keep a count on how many books I have purchased in the last year. I have a thing for good books and so this is what I keep purchasing all the time even though I haven't read all those books.

Hi, Books, I have well over 1000. I stopped counting a decade ago.
