Subject: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Ssal on Sun, 23 Oct 2016 13:53:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Is there a movie that you love so much that you find yourself watching it over and over? For me it's the Harry Potter series. Every few months I find myself watching them all all over again. And it never gets boring.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by cwemoy on Mon, 24 Oct 2016 04:32:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have never been someone to watch a movie more than once. The advantage of re-watching a movie is that you are able to catch some scenes that you'd skipped, the first time.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Herz on Sun, 30 Oct 2016 14:06:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have watched a few movies more than once, usually twice. They are mostly films that fall in the psychological thriller genre; they generally make more sense if seen again.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by sawyer25 on Sun, 30 Oct 2016 15:27:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Herz wrote on Sun, 30 October 2016 09:06I have watched a few movies more than once, usually twice. They are mostly films that fall in the psychological thriller genre; they generally make more sense if seen again.
I completely agree with you Herz; it makes more sense to re-watch movies that fall in that genre. I normally find it really difficult to say, watch an action movie more than once.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Gemmel on Sat, 05 Nov 2016 02:50:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I keep a stash of old movies like Gone With the Wind and Cleopatra and every so often I like to have a lazy weekend just watching all these old movies.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Lizah on Fri, 02 Dec 2016 14:50:47 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There have been very few movies that I enjoy watching over and over again. One of my favorites to do that with was "The Crow". I watched that movies so many times I think I knew every line!

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Airforce 3 on Mon, 12 Dec 2016 20:32:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

All of the Bourne movies. The trilogy and now the new one I could watch forever. They make you think, the CIA is essentially the bad guy and there are fight and chase scenes that are unreal.

Those 4 movies are all I need in my collection.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Becky on Sat, 04 Oct 2025 18:14:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yes, there are several movies that I've watched movies over and over again. The Harry Potter series was one of them. I have watched the series as many times and it can never get old in my eyes.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Helen on Tue, 07 Oct 2025 03:44:39 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Ssal wrote on Sun, 23 October 2016 08:53Is there a movie that you love so much that you find yourself watching it over and over? For me it's the Harry Potter series. Every few months I find myself watching them all all over again. And it never gets boring.
I don't have a particular movie that I can watch more than twice. Even when the movie was quite interesting, I would rather use that time to watch another movie instead of spending time watching a movie that I just finished watching.

Subject: Re: Watching movies over and over again
Posted by Bercle on Wed, 11 Feb 2026 12:38:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I am the type of person who is always happy to rewatch older movies. The most important thing is for the movie to be an interesting one and I won't mind watching it again in my free time. There are a whole lot of older movies on my watchlist that I would wish to watch.