An advertisement popped up here, on this site, that really cracked me up:

Tesla Generator $49.00.
Those familiar with history will immediately see the humor in this.

Those unfamiliar: All generators are Tesla generators.

I'd love to say that I saw the humor in that post, but to be quite honest, I'm lost. I guess I'll do a quick search online and 'educate' myself a little more.

Look up the history of AC generators.

Another interesting thing to research is the rivalry between Edison and Tesla.

I saw that in a movie once. It was about magic and stuff like that so I thought that the rivalry between Edison and Tesla was made up.
