This sounds like a typical Trump move.

<http://www.cnn.com/2016/12/07/trump-picks-wrestling-magnate-linda-mcmahon-to-lead-small-business-administration.html>

Linda McMahan is the co-founder of the WWE and Trump picked her to lead the Small Business Administration.

What do you think? Is Trump a bonehead or a brilliant strategist?

Initially, it started as a rumour but I think right now, it looks like Linda is about to assume that role. I have never been a Trump favourite but based on how things have been unfolding, I think it is fair to judge him after the first term.
