I'm in the final stages of getting my home theater setup complete. I currently have a BluRay smart DVD player with a projector, wall screen and a surround sound system. This is all in a separate room I call the media room. There isn't any furniture in there besides a small table as I can't decide what to put chair wise- recliner, couch, actual movie seats etc.

Do you have any recommendations? What furniture do you have in your home theater?

My wife bought some antique theater seats for my "man cave" that look amazing! Of course, I cringe every time one of my kiddos puts their feet in the seat or spills a drink. People eat, drink, and get comfortable while watching the screen so it's best to buy something durable and easy to clean.
