I don't know how I missed this series of documentaries until now, but now that I'm watching them I am hooked. Any other fans here?

I saw them, not bad....but Cosmos by Carl Sagan was better.

The new Cosmos is not so great IMO.

I love documentaries a lot but it has been a while since I watched these. I think I now have a bucket list. I am the kind that starts watching something, once the hype has fizzled out.

I've seen some episodes of it, and it's really amazing just how much new information is coming up concerning our world and the so called religious institution.
