Anyone here ever given thought to making and moderating a website that reviews music? I think it might be a good way to bring in a passive income through ad-sense while giving your opinions on music.

I'd say that this depends on whether there are other websites in this niche that are up there in terms of ranking. You wouldn't want to start a website that isn't able to attract huge traffic because of competition, or would you?

Plus I think that you would have to be really into music not just as a passing hobby but as a real passion if you want to make that kind of site a success.
