I rely on the radio for regular broadcasts of current affairs and breaking news. It may lack the visual appeal but to me, it is the single most effective way of reaching the masses. It is also a channel through which I get to follow my favorite musician's progress.

Yes, I still love radio too. Not so much for music, but for news and talk. Sometimes I listen to music radio in the car, sometimes I listen to talk radio.

I hardly listen to music on the radio since there's YouTube already. I mostly tune in to listen to the news and the shows. I don't think I'll ever get over my love for radio. Old habits die hard, huh?

Same here in the aspect that I listen to music on Youtube and streaming music sites mostly now. However when I don't have my aux chord or Bluetooth connector in the car I still enjoy listening to the radio.
