Hey guys, I love to break down and listen intently to lyrics to a song. Certain lyrics from songs have changed my life. What about you? Do you have any favorite song lyrics?

I like any lyrics that speak to me and whatever situation I happen to be in that moment. If I am heartbroken I will love any song that soothes me. If I'm feeling passion, I like any lyrics that cause me to feel inspired...

Over time, I have realized that beats alone, do not define whether or not a song is good. I tend to read through the lyrics so as to try to understand the logic behind a composition. Having said this, I have only memorized the lyrics to two songs so far.

Singlow, I am the same way with lyrics. If they speak to me they tend to stick with me. Sometimes, if they really hit me hard, I think about getting them tattooed on me.
