Subject: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by ddarch44 on Sun, 01 May 2005 12:17:03 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Through the generosity of a visitor to my site, I was able to acquire an AR ETL-1...the first that I have been able to own (or even touch for that matter.)There are many upgrades from the AR ES-1, which it resembles slightly. The plinth is several inches larger, the platter is much heavier and chromed, the inner platter bearing is beefier, the armboard features removeable weights to adjust for arm mass, and the speed is electronically controlled. Also, the side boards are solid cherry, not cherry veneer.The arm is a Sumiko Premiere MMT. The cart is a V-15 Series III with MR stylus. It is interesting that this table is labeled the "Research Series." I was under the impression is was part of the "Connossieur" series. Anyone have details on that??I am currently working on maximizing the sound...the inner platter bearing is a little worn and the armboard weight system needs tweaking. See more pics by following the link. See exact specs on the AR Models page.Dave
ETL-1 Gallery

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by Manualblock on Tue, 03 May 2005 22:05:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Technically this is sales literature. Your link is the site where you do business;no?

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by Russellc on Tue, 03 May 2005 22:34:56 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

If the table is offered for sale on his site , yes. If only a "picture from his gallery" no. At least not directly, but since the site does offer turntables for sale, its close. but if only a gallery picture that someone out there sent in, closer to eye candy. If this is going to be offered for sale, yes. Most of the gallery pictures are of tables belonging to various hobbyists. This table belongs to him. How about it vinyle asylum, is this going up for sale?Russellc

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by Manualblock on Wed, 04 May 2005 01:24:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Whats your e-mail. I must talk confidentially.

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by ddarch44 on Fri, 06 May 2005 01:26:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My site is 90% devoted to being an AR turntable resource and 10% sales offerings. I have never posted a link directly to my sales page on this or any audio discussion board, and never will. What I do post is site updates and gallery pics. I do this all as hobby, and running the site costs me money for both server use and technical assistance. I have also spent money out of pocket for an upgraded digital camera to take better quality shots, and to purchase AR literature. In addition, I spend up to an hour every day answering technical questions about AR tables at no cost. If Audiorountable requests that I no longer post links to my site, I will of course comply. Dave

---

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by ddarch44 on Fri, 06 May 2005 01:26:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Refer to the website.

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by ddarch44 on Fri, 06 May 2005 01:33:49 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The ETL-1 will have to be pried from my dead stiff fingers....

Subject: Re: AR Turntable Gallery Pic of the Week
Posted by Russellc on Fri, 06 May 2005 22:51:29 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I can understand that. A rare find and a beautiful table to be sure.Regards, Russellc

---