

---

Subject: Types of background music

Posted by WorkingWoman2017 on Wed, 07 Jun 2017 00:30:25 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

What types of background music are appropriate for waiting areas, private offices and coffee rooms? Do you need different types of music for each area or not?

---

---

Subject: Re: Types of background music

Posted by bcharlton on Wed, 07 Jun 2017 08:35:17 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

There's this place that I usually frequent and it has the most soothing background music. Classical music is always playing and I never seem to get tired of it. I guess it depends on the location in question.

---

---

Subject: Re: Types of background music

Posted by Tadtone on Thu, 08 Jun 2017 09:12:52 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Kind of depends on the office. Classical music is popular in waiting rooms because it is calming. If its an office where people are going to be on the phone a lot, you might not want any as it makes it hard to hear.

---

---

Subject: Re: Types of background music

Posted by bcharlton on Thu, 08 Jun 2017 19:51:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Tadtone wrote on Thu, 08 June 2017 04:12 Kind of depends on the office. Classical music is popular in waiting rooms because it is calming. If its an office where people are going to be on the phone a lot, you might not want any as it makes it hard to hear.

I agree with you completely. Still classical music, when played in low volumes, can actually be suitable for an office set up. It is much better than no music at all.

---