

---

Subject: Music Listening as a profession

Posted by WorkingWoman2017 on Tue, 27 Jun 2017 22:10:13 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Are there any ways out there that you guys know about that would pay a person for listening or ??? to music? I'm an entrepreneur and am always looking for new ways to make money.

---

---

Subject: Re: Music Listening as a profession

Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 28 Jun 2017 14:01:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

You could work for a radio station.

---

---

Subject: Re: Music Listening as a profession

Posted by Bert on Wed, 28 Jun 2017 14:58:23 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I agree with Wayne, you could always work at the radio station. However, you could also start a YouTube channel and do reaction videos to music and make some spare change.

---

---

Subject: Re: Music Listening as a profession

Posted by PianoGrrl on Sat, 01 Jul 2017 16:16:07 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

You could always become a music critic for a blog or newspaper. That way you get paid and you might even score free tickets to a concert or two!

---