Hello, I have recently been working on making my music room better. I'd like to purchase some Acoustic wall panels, but I'm not sure where to purchase them.

You can buy them from a music store and online. Amazon has quite a few listed

I ended up making my own by using a Lifehacker tutorial and Wayne Parham's fantastic advice.

I would look them up online if they weren't available in the local music stores. Is it economical to say, buy from Amazon if you are just getting a few for home use?
