One of the major offshoots of this golden anniversary milestone has been the release of the Sgt. Pepper Super Deluxe Edition box set, which contains new mixes done by producer Giles Martin and mix engineer Sam Okell in both stereo and 5.1 surround sound at 96kHz/24-bit. The collection also includes many aurally intriguing early takes from the album's studio sessions, including 34 previously unreleased recordings.

Wow more Beatles after 50 years, and all in surround sound and stereo. I'm looking for this box set as we speak! I'll let anyone whose interested what I find.

All I can say is WOW!

I'm a huge Beetle's fan! I will be looking for that box set. Any ideas what would be the best (and cheapest) place to find it?
