Anyone know of any good deals for any kind of audio equipment that's going to be up for Black Friday or Cyber Monday? I usually just keep my eye on Amazon Prime but I'm wondering if anyone knows of other sites worth keeping an eye on for electronic/audio needs.

I like to keep up with dealnews and fatwallet for Black Friday deals and news. You can sort by audio/visual equipment to make it easier. What deals do you think we'll see this year?

I have been never lucky because every time Black Friday deals surface, I am either travelling or whatever is on offer is something I already own. I hope to be lucky this time round because I am looking to purchase a TV set as an anniversary gift for a close family friend.

lilbill, I've never been very lucky in the past either which is why I'm trying to switch up my approach. I hope you find your TV. Lost the Remote, thank you for those suggestions. I hadn't heard of them before. That's very handy that you can sort by category. I'm not sure what kind of deals we'll find this year...won't have to wait long to figure out, I guess.

You can always try HeadSetstore UK (google it). Anyways, I'm probably going to be buying from them, going to buy a headset and I'm also going to buy a killer speaker. I might give you guys a sneak peek once I buy it!
