All during Black Friday, I kept seeing deals for tuners on Amazon.com They're clip-on models. Do you believe these work? Which model have you tried?

Not sure what kind of clip-on tuner you're talking about but if it's for guitars, I have a friend who has several guitars and uses his clip-on tuner to make sure each string is tuned to the proper note. Just to see how accurate the tuner is, after tuning his guitar, we compared the strings to the notes on a piano and it was really accurate.
