Which station in your opinion really captures the true essence of the holiday season and plays really great music and shows for the whole family?

I have a local station that plays Christmas music from December 19th through the 26th and it's good. They track Santa through NORAD and have "experts" come in to discuss what reindeer should eat to maintain their tip top shape for long distance flying and whether Mrs. Claus will ever write a tell-all book. I loved it as a kid.

That's adorable. I wish we had something like that in my area. I've found that the amount of Christmas music being played on the radio has decreased over the last few years. I don't know if it's because of people getting offended over the holidays or what, but I've noticed they don't even play it in stores as much (but don't shy away from trying to sell holiday products).

That does sound wonderful. I don't think we have anything like that in our area, but the radio stations do make an effort to play more of those merry holiday songs during Christmas season.
