
Subject: Favorite Childhood Movie

Posted by lush on Sun, 08 Apr 2018 17:06:01 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I think we all have movies that are pretty definitive pieces of our childhood. What movie(s) did you watch all the time when you were younger? Do you ever watch them now?

I loved The Sandlot, Rudy, Big Green, Little Giants, Rookie of the Year ... I just realized all of mine are sports-related. That's funny since I definitely didn't grow up to be very athletic at all. I guess I was too busy sitting around and watching movies!

I would watch any of these in a heartbeat. I've only watched The Sandlot and Rudy recently. The former, because I just discovered it on HBOGO, and Rudy because I like to watch it at least a few times a year.

These are in addition to all the great Disney classics, of course.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie

Posted by Madison on Sun, 08 Apr 2018 18:29:23 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I loved Little Orphan Annie as a child, especially the singing. However, I recently saw it again and was horrified. Who on earth thought that movie was good for kids? It's sad and awfully violent. Obviously I was cooler as a kid.

I liked Little Giantstoo. The dads/coaches played their roles spectacularly.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie

Posted by SamW on Mon, 09 Apr 2018 08:34:47 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

"The Princess Bride" - I was made to watch it with my sister who was ill with tonsillitis one day. She was crazy about princesses and this was her film of choice. I think she chose it for the title which naturally revolted me!

But I loved it and often encouraged her to request it again then I would reluctantly agree to sit with her.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie

Posted by J.Jacobs on Tue, 10 Apr 2018 02:05:36 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Little Giants was a great movie. Princess Bride was good too. I think I'm going to have to say the most definitive movie of my childhood is probably The Goonies. We would rent that movie all the freaking time. Another one that I watched a lot (and not by choice) is Titanic. My sister watched that movie a million and fourteen times.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by MRikki on Sat, 26 Dec 2020 05:48:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Other than the Disney classics, I really loved Willy Wonka & The Chocolate Factory. My favorite part was when Violet blew up like a balloon! The songs were also pretty catchy. I still hum them sometimes! :p

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by Rusty on Sat, 26 Dec 2020 13:01:52 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The Yearling 1946. Another Gregory Peck film perched high on my list. Set in 1800's rural Florida. A young lad befriends and cares for a young doe after it's mother was shot by the lad's father to harvest it's heart and liver after being snake bit by a rattler to treat the wound. The movie has a dream like quality to it that is poignant depicting a boy learning life's hard knocks. Still get teared up when the lad has to shoot the yearling for having eaten the family's crops.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by penguin89 on Mon, 04 Jan 2021 00:05:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Like many people, I'm a real sucker for Disney movies. :p My favorite was The Little Mermaid, followed closely by Cinderella. I share Disney movies with my nieces now, and it's wonderful to hear them singing songs from movies that defined my childhood.

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by KalebTheAudioGuy on Sun, 10 Jan 2021 17:06:53 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My family loved musical dramas, so I often watched movies like Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and The Sound of Music. I wonder if watching these movies so often as a kid was what got me into music as an adult. :lol:

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by MRikki on Wed, 03 Feb 2021 23:13:23 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

KalebTheAudioGuy wrote on Sun, 10 January 2021 11:06My family loved musical dramas, so I often watched movies like Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and The Sound of Music. I wonder if watching these movies so often as a kid was what got me into music as an adult. :lol:
I have fond memories of watching The Sound of Music. When we had a snow day, we'd spend the whole day watching it. My mom would make fresh bread. It was quite a delightful event, and made me wish for more snow days! :d

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by Acacia on Fri, 05 Feb 2021 16:49:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There were the classic Disney movies but "Click" and "Titanic" were some of the movies that kept me emotional no matter how many times I've watched them. I remember watching "Enchanted" too because it was a combination of animation and real-life. I was even disappointed at first when

Subject: Re: Favorite Childhood Movie
Posted by MRikki on Sat, 06 Feb 2021 16:23:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Acacia wrote on Fri, 05 February 2021 10:49There were the classic Disney movies but "Click" and "Titanic" were some of the movies that kept me emotional no matter how many times I've watched them. I remember watching "Enchanted" too because it was a combination of animation and

Can you believe that I've never seen Titanic? It's one of those movies that I feel that I should watch, but I haven't gotten around to watching it yet. Same with Citizen Kane and Twelve Angry Men.
