Subject: Portable Speakers for Travel
Posted by SamW on Thu, 03 May 2018 10:12:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I often take business trips abroad which can last 3 - 4 weeks. Can anyone recommend speakers that would fit into my luggage and which are tough enough not to get damaged in transit? I have a budget of about $1000.

Subject: Re: Portable Speakers for Travel
Posted by rarerat on Sun, 06 May 2018 09:45:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Friends that I go camping, hiking and on beach holidays with always bring along the speakers. They've just invested in the UE Roll 2 speakers by Ultimate Ears. They're pretty rugged as they get lugged about in a backpack. they're also waterproof. One of my friends travels on business like you and she takes these speakers with her in her suitcase.

It's round speaker, like a disc and has a great, crisp sound, it weighs 11.6oz and measures 5.3 x

Subject: Re: Portable Speakers for Travel
Posted by SamW on Sun, 06 May 2018 09:51:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

It's so easy to recharge batteries now. Prety much everywhere has power sockets so I'd definitely go with a Bluetooth speaker. My personal choice would be the "Charge 3" by JBL. It has a 20-hour battery life, great distortion-free sound, weighs less than 2lbs and travels well. It also charges your cell phone

Subject: Re: Portable Speakers for Travel
Posted by Humphries on Sun, 03 Jun 2018 08:41:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The Denon Envaya speaker is a great one. It's really durable and lightweight enough for travel. I think it's pretty high-quality for a portable speaker. The treble isn't great though. That's not a deal breaker for me but it might be for you. It's also reasonably priced.