Subject: Movie Collection
Posted by Junior on Tue, 20 Nov 2018 14:16:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Do you collect movies? If so, what type of movies do you collect?

I love watching war documentaries and movies because it tells us the grit and determination of the people affected by those wars. Leaders of nations are in conflict, but the people who have no quarrel against each other are the ones fighting.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Rusty on Tue, 20 Nov 2018 17:05:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I use to. Kind of lost interest though. I like a variety of movies, older movies of ones that I'd enjoyed and newer types of differing genre's. Off beat movies interest me. Titles such as Ghost Dog, Buckaroo Banzai, Bubba Ho Tep and The Brother From Another Planet I made a effort to find.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Lost the Remote on Tue, 20 Nov 2018 20:02:16 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I collect Disney movies, but that's mostly for the kids.  Now that everything has gone  digital it just doesn't seem as important to collect anything.  It will always be there.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Reggie on Wed, 21 Nov 2018 03:09:52 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My movie collection has become a dust collector with the arrival of the digital copy and streaming movies. I don't have a specific genre because I buy the ones I want to re-watch.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by TheWanderer on Sat, 15 Dec 2018 19:36:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I used to collect movies when I was younger. Anything "quirky" or unusual. I fell upon some hard times a couple of years ago and sold them all to the local trade shop. It did sting a bit to part with my collection at the time but I actually prefer the lack of clutter. Physical copies of movies are almost obsolete now.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by gofar99 on Mon, 17 Dec 2018 02:53:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I collect all kinds normally on BlueRay I have 100's

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by johnnycamp5 on Sat, 22 Dec 2018 21:36:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I collect them as well.

Mostly action/adventure types.
My family love watching movies, although my wife has a hard time sitting through them lol.

Most all are blu-ray, and now blu-ray 4K, even though I don't have a 4K flat screen yet.
I do have the 4K player though....

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Junior on Thu, 07 Feb 2019 07:56:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I've collected a lot of movies, from CD to Blu-Ray formats, and they are piling up in my home. I'm contemplating on selling some them and keep the ones that I really like re-watching. What about you guys, what do you do when your collection becomes just a dust magnet?

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Reggie on Wed, 03 Apr 2019 21:54:50 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I place my collection in a box when I've collected a lot and becomes a dust collector. I don't want to sell or give away my collection because I can pass it down to my children when I become old.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by MRikki on Wed, 09 Dec 2020 21:29:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I've been collecting Pixar movies for many years. I still have my VHS copies of Finding Nemo and A Bug's Life that I watched when I was a kid! :d  I've recently added Onward to my collection, and I'm looking forward to purchasing Soul when it comes out on DVD next year.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Acacia on Tue, 23 Feb 2021 18:01:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Not me but this reminds me of my aunt's DVD collections that I'd see on her shelf when we would visit. It mostly consisted of Disney movies, Barbie, and Anime in general. I remember this because buying DVDs was almost a regular thing then.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Raymond on Fri, 12 Mar 2021 04:44:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I collected anime when I was younger. I ended up selling a lot of my collection as streaming services became popular. I've considered getting back into collecting movies, but right now, I can't afford it.  :cry:

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Csharp on Fri, 26 Mar 2021 01:27:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Suspense and drama. There is no one format I use because I like them all. It keeps my mind sharp having to do slightly different things just to watch a movie.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Beck on Fri, 18 Jun 2021 07:06:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I didn't think of it as a collection but I've bought DVDs before and had it compiled in a DVD clear book. Collecting those movies that way might be a thing of the past now.

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Phonetic Ear on Sun, 05 Sep 2021 05:06:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Movie DVD collections stir some fond memories since these were some things that I looked forward to buying. Even though we've watched it one by one, it calls for a movie night once we've completed the series. Specifically, The Mummy!

Subject: Re: Movie Collection
Posted by Becky on Wed, 15 Oct 2025 06:05:10 GMT

Everything has gone digital that one can download any kinds from the internet or moviebox. I used to collect cartoons, documentaries, war movie and any other sorts, I don't reject any. I can stream online these days that I don't need any collection again.