Hi,

A few years ago a friend built a pair of one pi bass reflex speakers, a kit that he bought at my suggestion.

I am planning for September or before if the confinement is over to start working on a two pi tower version kit to use with my newly assembled DIY loftin white amp.

My queries are:

Is there a possibility to quote the kit with component upgrade in the crossover?

Is it possible to send me a copy of the plans to start the construction of the box while I wait to buy the drivers?

Thanks in advance!

Kind regards from Chile.

You've got mail!

Our kits ship with Jantzen air-core coils and Solen polypropylene capacitors. Those are very good components. But you can choose other brands if you prefer.

You don't have to purchase anything from us. Purchase your drivers and crossover parts wherever you like. We support DIYers.
