Subject: Cool collectibles
Posted by Leot55 on Mon, 28 Dec 2020 00:38:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Which albums are on your must-have list for their collectibility? It doesn't even have to be worth a lot of money, just something you value as art for art's sake is enough.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Madison on Thu, 31 Dec 2020 01:45:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

As far as genuine collectors' items go, I have the original album cover to Depeche Mode's Music for the Massesand I have Royksopp's Melody A.M. album with Banksy's artwork and I have David Bowie's original Diamond Dogs without the airbrushing. I have no idea where the Bowie album came from. It was in my dad's vinyl collection. I used to have one of the important Led Zeppelin and Rolling Stone's albums, but I must've lost them both in a move because I can't find them anywhere.

I'd love to nab the original Sex Pistols, God Save the Queen. They're incredibly difficult to find and fetch thousands of dollars.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Leot55 on Thu, 07 Jan 2021 06:35:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I've read some of your other threads and I'm impressed by your collection, Madison. If you ever decide to sell your Depeche Mode album shoot me a PM. I've been a fan for ages.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by sammi40 on Thu, 07 Jan 2021 14:59:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

This is a great question! I don't have any right now but I would love to get my hands on any Prince or Michael Jackson. It doesn't matter which albums, I think any would be cool to own.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Madison on Sun, 17 Jan 2021 21:04:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Leot55, I inherited most of my collection. It seems like many of those born in the 30s-70s really held onto their things. I've also picked up stuff at garage sales and estate sales.

Sammi, you can find their stuff easily. Start asking around and see if anyone wants to get rid of theirs.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Concorde on Tue, 02 Mar 2021 19:23:56 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There are 2 EP's Elton John put out as England releases only. This was '67....'68....somewhere in there, the first music he ever made, that I really want.

The songwriting probably stinks to high heaven, but I don't want them for that. I want them to say that I have them.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Rusty on Thu, 11 Mar 2021 13:39:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I only collect what I want to listen to. Not really interested in it's collectability or value on the collectors market. Some of the out of print vinyl is just too expensive. I'd go for a reissue or compilations.

Subject: Re: Cool collectibles
Posted by Azuri on Sat, 13 Mar 2021 21:36:08 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Very first album.....First issue.....Bing Crosby.....Unopened. I have no idea what it's called or how much it would be worth, but it has to be worth something substantial.
