I know I'm corny but I love Chip and Joanna Gaines. I see they are coming back to television but only through streaming. I pay for cable and I own a couple of smart televisions. How would I go about streaming the Discovery + station?

You can watch it on your laptop or any other device. If you have a smart television, you can download the app and watch it directly on your TV. Disney+ will be going up soon, so it might be worth it to you to pay for a year in advance if they still offer that choice.

Do you have a Fire TV Stick or Roku? You can download the Disney+ app to those and stream it that way. How do you usually stream shows? I can give better instructions if I know what you have on hand.

I have a smart TV and a firestick. I bought into Disney+ when it first came out but have already canceled. I was hoping Discovery+ was the same. I would just hate to pay for it and not be able to watch it.
