Day before yesterday I was set to purchase drivers for 2PI's. That project has been stuck for almost two years now and I really wanted to start it. I was only missing Eminence drivers. While looking for them on local ebay-like site where actual equipment dealers often sell their wares I managed to stumble upon an ad for someone selling JBL drivers. Turned out the dude had six of them, all 2226H and all in very good condition. I responded and some 18 hours later ended up with a really nice pair of JBL 2226H drivers. And got them for a really good price too. JBL's are notoriously expensive in Europe and very difficult to obtain in my country especially in such good condition. So, having purchased these JBL drivers 2PIs will wait a bit more :d

Wayne, can I have 4pi plans please?

Tweeters are on their way. I will be using B&C DE250. I have a question about Zobel resistor. Does it have to be non-inductive type? Will something like https://eu.mouser.com/datasheet/2/303/HS\_Datasheet3-779273.pdf do?

Hi Wayne,

I'm interested in building 4 Pi, could you please send me a copy of the plan?
I'm debating between flat-pack and building from scratch.

Thanks.
