Subject: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Acacia on Wed, 18 Aug 2021 06:18:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Gadgets, and any techy stuff for that matter, will cost us money either for the sake of quality or brand. That's why, if I'm going to spend on expensive stuff, I'd at least want it to be multi-purpose. Too cheap, and it's only months before it needs some fixing. What TV(s) would you recommend that gives great gaming and film-viewing experience? Any good brands or models?

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Leot55 on Sun, 22 Aug 2021 03:07:16 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Samsung's QN90A model is a QLED TV that has Alexa built-in. It has an excellent picture, it supports the latest Xbox and PlayStation, and it has extra gaming features built-in. My kids are currently hogging mine, or I'd game on it more instead of the computer.

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by LCallan on Sun, 05 Sep 2021 21:40:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I never thought I'd say this, but you can't go wrong with a LG model with an OLED screen. LG might not be the best at making washing machines and refrigerators, but they've perfected their TV models. There's almost no lag when gaming. It's not noticeable at all. The images are vivid too - better than what I've seen from Sony and Samsung recently

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by LoveJB on Sun, 31 Oct 2021 20:52:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have a LG and a Samsung. They are both great televisions. Technology changes so fast so there is always something new. What brands are you looking at?

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Spotifier on Thu, 31 Mar 2022 13:01:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Check out the Hisense brand. It has a lot of models that have a good ratings. It's also budget-friendly despite its size, and I'm sure hardcore gamers will find this worth it.

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Porter on Mon, 22 Aug 2022 21:58:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have a Samsung QN90A QLED and the picture is amazing. It reminds me of old plasma TVs. I'm not much of a gamer, so I haven't tested that out, but if you're looking for something to play movies, then it's a good choice for that.

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Helen on Sat, 18 Oct 2025 09:35:20 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I don't know if there's a specific TV for gaming but we have been using one for so long in our home. We had Samsung for every movies we need to watch, it serves us better.

Subject: Re: TVs for Movie and Gaming
Posted by Helen on Fri, 24 Oct 2025 16:49:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Spotifier wrote on Thu, 31 March 2022 08:01Check out the Hisense brand. It has a lot of models that have a good ratings. It's also budget-friendly despite its size, and I'm sure hardcore gamers will find this worth it.
Hisense brand is a good product both for TVs and refrigerators. It is budget friendly no matter the size you got. I got a freezer some months ago and I'm glad I chose Hisense brand. It worth the price and I've been serving me well since then.