Subject: Live music streaming
Posted by Leot55 on Thu, 14 Oct 2021 15:32:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I enjoyed Slacker Radio, but it merged with another company and became LiveXLive a few years ago. I stopped using it then. Does anyone pay for this service? Live concerts aren't picking up around here like they are in other parts of the country. I miss the atmosphere of live music. If you aren't a LiveXLive user, then I'd love to know which radio platform you prefer for live music streaming.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by LCallan on Thu, 21 Oct 2021 03:21:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You can watch live concerts on Twitch. I know most people think of it as a gaming platform, but there's actually a robust musician community there too. That's what I use.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by Kingfish on Sun, 24 Oct 2021 12:29:54 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Never did get into the live streaming. There is a live stream thing on my Reddit feed, but that could be about anything under the sun. From Asians playing traditional music on traditional instruments, to people playing with their cats, to skateboarders in a skate park.

It's interesting because you never know what you're going to be watching.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by Becky on Thu, 09 Oct 2025 16:48:32 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Twitch is a good place to watch live concerts. I have make use of it so many times that it's uncountable. There are other apps that one can use for live music streaming but twitch is really a good app for that.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by Prince on Thu, 09 Oct 2025 18:55:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Becky wrote on Thu, 09 October 2025 11:48Twitch is a good place to watch live concerts. I have make use of it so many times that it's uncountable. There are other apps that one can use for live music streaming but twitch is really a good app for that.

I have made use of YouTube music most of the time and it has served its purpose. It is either I am using it to stream music or I focus on using Audiomack for my streaming purposes.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by Becky on Fri, 17 Oct 2025 07:38:50 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Prince wrote on Thu, 09 October 2025 13:55Becky wrote on Thu, 09 October 2025 11:48Twitch is a good place to watch live concerts. I have make use of it so many times that it's uncountable. There are other apps that one can use for live music streaming but twitch is really a good app for that.
I have made use of YouTube music most of the time and it has served its purpose. It is either I am using it to stream music or I focus on using Audiomack for my streaming purposes.
I don't like YouTube music and I've never use it before. Yeah, people said much about the app that it's very good for streaming music but I don't find it good for me. I prefer Audiomack than YouTube music.

Subject: Re: Live music streaming
Posted by Bercle on Thu, 09 Jul 2026 07:34:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

LCallan wrote on Wed, 20 October 2021 22:21You can watch live concerts on Twitch. I know most people think of it as a gaming platform, but there's actually a robust musician community there too. That's what I use
You are right because I used to think Twitch was mostly used for gaming related content until I realised that I could stream songs on it in 2022. Since then, it is an app that I've used consistently for live music streaming.
