Did you guys see the news that there's going to be another price hike for Amazon Prime? I think Netflix has announced an increase in their prices too. Cord cutting sure is getting expensive. I might be better off with cable.

Must be supply chain issues right? They do so because they can. Everyone else is, riding on the coattails of the pandemic price hike.

Not so fast. I just a letter from my cable company, informing me that they're raising rates. I think everything is going up. It's getting ridiculous.

I did! I just shook my head. Everything us going up! Heck you can't even buy some things in the store anymore.
You know I wouldn't complain about Amazon Prime except they don't even deliver quickly anymore!
