I just watched the first one and I thought it was horrible! I had a hard time even getting through it. I have loved the other Marvel movies but this set drove me crazy. Anyone else agree/disagree?

The second movie in the series is slightly more palatable, but overall, I just think the movies are geared more towards kids.

I'm just a big kid 'cause I loved 'em both!

I loved those movies. I adore Groot and the Rocket Raccoon. I think the films have a perfect mix of dialogue, drama, and action. It's all subjective, though.

I did watch the second one and honestly wasn't all that impressed. I watched Doctor Strange after. That one was great! I see there is a new Doctor Strange movie being released soon. These have been the first two movies I haven't really enjoyed (Guardian ones).

Even though it wasn't a favorite, I loved the movie and the characters. The emotional scenes were decent, while some were also funny. It appears that the characters' clashing personalities made it more interesting.
