We like to have LSAF every year during the first weekend in June, but varied covid concerns still risk creating the wrong atmosphere for the show. Some people want no mask requirements, others want masks and vaccine checks. So rather than risk arguments among friends, we chose not to have a show when this might be possible. That's why we are not having a show in 2022 - Too much contention in the public discourse.

Hopefully, we can have a show in 2023, free from controversy.

Hi, Yes, indeed. It is unfortunate that the virus is so persistent, but worse that we can't agree on what to do about it and get upset by other's opinions whether valid or not. Hopefully next year. BTW we are refreshing the Oddwatt Site and hope to actively engage in business this year. It has been a long hiatus beyond our control.
